Lack Of Ambience, Poor Returns & Little Media Interest May Go Against Rebel Tour, Says English Legend

R.Satyaj@timesgroup.com

Bengaluru: A critic of the Saudi-backed LIV Golf, Sir Nick Faldo, who was in the city for the launch of the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge, a $300,000 Challenge Tour event that gets under way at the KIA on Thursday, felt there was no buzz around the rebel tour run by Greg Norman, his rival during his playing days.

"Give a year or two, it might be make-or-break because as we have seen, there is very little interest in the media. The coverage on their new TV channel or the last few events on YouTube, was very poor. It's 16 or 17,000 people watching in the whole of the world. If they have another quiet year, or a very quiet year, the players will be disenchanted, the sponsors won't be there or TV might not even be there," Faldo on Tuesday.

"Even LIV Golf might look at the numbers. If they are spending $2.4 billion to create a Tour and there is no return, I don't think there is any company in the world that is not concerned about their ROI (return on investment). It's a crunch year. Let's see what happens by the end of this year," added the six-time Major champion from England.

When asked about how some of the top players would feel if things don't go the way they have envisioned, Faldo said "they it's a great opportunity to earn crazy money for two years or something like that". At the end of the day, you still play the game because it is a sport and you want the buzz and the excitement and the atmosphere to have that great feeling inside when you are trying to play well," he added.

Regarding world ranking points for LIV golfers, the golfing legend said that LIV was not an official Tour. "It is not a 72-hole event, they just have to wait their time to get fully accredited with the World ranking points."

With a work ethic second to none, Faldo said he worked hard because he loved the sport. "My motivation was to just play great. If you are good enough to survive the pressure of winning a Major, that puts you in a completely different category."

He did survive the pressure on that gloomy final day of The Open in 1987. He made 18 straight pars to start his Major career. "The weather on that day was unbelievable, there was thick fog and the golf ball was going nowhere. So, there was all that judgement of what club to hit," he recalled.

"And I knew I was in a great position, I thought I could win, and I was teeing in new waters. I was nervous and I was just trying to do the best I could on each shot. Everything was very different, the greens, the whole atmosphere was thick. It ended up being a historic day. Good luck to anybody making a couple of pars, let alone 18. It got me through, it was a great reward for the two years of changing my swing," he said before heading off to hit a few golf balls.

A six-time Major winner, Nick Faldo is regarded as the best British golfer of all time. For much of the early 1990s, Faldo dominated the sport, spending 97 weeks on top of the Official World Golf Ranking.

But things were tough in the early days of his career. In the mid-80s, Faldo – frustrated at being unable to win a Major – took a big gamble by completely rebuilding his swing under instructor David Leadbetter.

Faldo had to start from scratch, and predictably, results did not go his way. It took nearly two years for the efforts of Faldo and Leadbetter to pay off.

Faldo finally broke the barrier at the 1987 Open Championship – his maiden Major triumph. Faldo

That Open win gave me huge confidence. I kept fine-tuning my game inaugural Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge, which will be held at the KGA course here from March 23 to 26.

"I was very nervous on that Sunday. It ended up being a historic day, and the start of my Major career. It was a great reward for changing my swing," Faldo said.

There was no looking back from here for Faldo. He went on to win two more Open titles (1990 and 1992), three Masters (1989, 1990 and 1996), and was inducted to the World Golf Hall of Fame in 1997.

"That Open win gave me huge confidence. I kept fine-tuning my game, and got better and better over the years," Faldo said.

entered the final day one shot behind American Paul Azinger, who was looking to win The Open Championship in his first attempt.

Treacherous conditions
The players were tested by treacherous conditions at Muirfield Golf Links in Gullane (Scotland). The course was covered by a thick layer of mist, leading to high scores.

Faldo's new swing, however, came through with flying colours. The Englishman showed nerves of steel to make 18 straight pars, while Azinger's game fell apart.

"The weather that day was unbelievable. The thick fog - I call it the Scottish pea soup fog.

"The golf ball was going nowhere, so we had to carefully judge what club to hit with. Good luck trying to make even a couple of pars, let alone eighteen," Faldo said here on Tuesday.

Nick Faldo is 66 years old but his passion for golf still burns bright. As the interview stretched beyond 10 minutes, he started to grow anxious. "Get it over soon guys, I need to hit a few balls," he says with a laugh. But in the short duration he spoke, the five-time major winner was point blank in his assessment of LIV Golf Tour which has divided the sport and the changing mentality of young players who are content with a better pay check and at the cost of major spoils.

In the city for the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge – an European Challenge tour event that tees off at the Karnataka Golf Association on Thursday – Faldo spoke about his contempt for LIV Golf, why they don't deserve ranking points etc. Excerpts.

As a golfing legend what are your thoughts on LIV Golf Tour which has divided the golfing world?
It's a huge subject, it's your two for them and it could be make or break. There's very little interest, media wise or on television. Their last two events on YouTube had very little viewership, guess 16-17 thousand viewers.

I think if they have another quiet year, the players would be disenchanted, the sponsors won't be there, the TV won't be there and even LIV Golf might look at the numbers. If they are spending 2.4 billion dollars to create a tour with no return, I don't think there's any company in the world that won't be concerned about their ROI (return on investment). So I think it's a crunch year for them.

If things go south for LIV, do you think some players, especially the major winners, may regret joining it?
I've said it before: I even started playing 48 guys – there's only 20 of them we even know – I'd be bored out of my brain playing the same guys. I think some of them have already implied it – where's the excitement? If you are out playing and there's no buzz, it's hard. If you are playing the 14th hole and there's nobody around, it's hard work.

Many of the major champions have played in fantastic arenas and golfers love the atmosphere. We love to play in front of an enthusiastic crowd and if there's no buzz, you are gonna miss that. It's flat right now and they have kind of disappeared. Nobody is really talking about them. I have no problem with guys who want to earn crazy money in a short span of two years but at the end of the day, you still play the game because you want the buzz, the excitement, and the atmosphere.

Your thoughts on LIV golfers demanding world ranking points?
They are not an official tour. And I think their commissioner is saying they need to grow up. It's not a 72-hole event and they need to wait their time to get fully accredited with world ranking points.

In your days, golfers, in fact most sportspersons in general, wanted to compete in major events. While money was important, the biggest motivation was competing against the best. Some athletes now see it the other way and prefer work-life balance. Your thoughts on the changed mentality?

It seems like society has changed. You are measured by your worth. Nobody knows how much I got in the bank, do they? In fact, even I don't know how much I've got. But they all know I've got six majors. For me and players from that era, we played for trophies. The most important thing was to win the trophies, in fact the right trophies. The money takes care of itself. There seems to be a change in society where they all think 'woah, what's the least I can do for the most amount of money'.

If you look at the Michael Jordans, the Tom Brads... they were nobodies when they were youngsters. They ground their teeth off, bled their hands or whatever to reach the pinnacle. Their motivation was just to play, play and play. If you are good enough to survive the pressure and win a major, it puts you in a different category.

I think Bobby Jones said it, there are two types of golfers, ones who survive and can play well under pressure and ones who can't. That's the biggest thrill for me, playing well under pressure. I knew on a Sunday afternoon, I had a chance whereas many would know they don't have a chance on Thursday morning. Every elite athlete wants to play their best when it matters.

Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge tees off at KGA on March 23

BENGALURU, MAR 22: The European Challenge Tour, TATA Steel Professional Golf Tour of India (POTI) and Black Bull Scotch Whisky today jointly announced the inaugural Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge.

The tournament co-sanctioned by the Challenge Tour and the TATA Steel POTI, carries a prize purse of US$ 300,000 and will be played at the pristine Kamataka Golf Association (KGA) golf course in Bengaluru from March 23 – 26, 2023.

The Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge is the first event to be jointly staged by the Challenge Tour and the TATA Steel POTI following the announcement of the strategic partnership between the DP World Tour and the TATA Steel POTI earlier this year. The leading Indian players in the field include former POTI Order of Merit champions Udayan Mane (Olympian) and Khairi Joshi, current POTI Order of Merit leader Sachinbhosale, Young Singh Sandhu and Aman Rai, to name a few.

The Challenge Tour is where the next generation of golfing stars find their feet and players including Irishman John Murphy, Frenchman Ugo Coussaud and Italian Matteo Manassero, the youngest winner in DP World Tour history, will tee it up in India this week.

Black Bull Scotch Whisky is the lead sponsor of the tournament's Pro-Am which will be played on Wednesday March 22, 2023. The Pro-Am event will see Black Bull Brand Ambassador, Sir Nick Faldo, lead the sponsor team.

Uttam Singh Mundoy, CEO, POTI, said, "We are delighted to welcome the Challenge Tour back in India as part of our strategic partnership with the DP World Tour. The inaugural Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge has been a highly anticipated event as it will mark the return of the POTI to the magnificent KGA, after a long gap and will be witness to an exciting contest as the leading golfing talents from the Challenge Tour and the POTI go head to head." "We thank Black Bull Scotch Whisky and KGA for partnering with the POTI and the Challenge Tour in launching the event and thereby creating more playing opportunities for Indian professionals. We are honoured to have golf legend Sir Nick Faldo amongst us at the Press Conference and the Pro-Am."

Sir Nick Faldo, "I'm extremely excited about launching this event as the brand ambassador of Black Bull. The most important thing is to give golfers an opportunity to compete. Then it's down to the professionals to prove himself. The alliance between the DP World Tour and the POTI provides a great opportunity for Indian professionals to compete on the DP World Tour and at Challenge Tour events. It provides a path for them. So I see this alliance as a big step forward for Indian professional golf. I've been following Indian golf for at least the last 15 years. The country has produced some outstanding golfing talent with the likes of Jeev Milkha Singh and Anirban Lahiri. But I feel India can produce many more champion golfers through opportunities provided by events such as these. Golf has a longer lifespan than many other sports. You can survive 30 years in golf. So a lot of Indian golfers, if they're good enough, can make a good career out of it."

Jennie Hodges, Head of Challenge Tour, said, "I am delighted that the Challenge Tour is back in India for the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge. We enjoyed a memorable visit to India in 2013 as Shub Kapur claimed his maiden victory on home soil. I would also like to thank everyone at KGA for their help and hospitality. Through our collective partnership and teamwork, we will showcase the beauty of India worldwide and our members will be treated to a first-class tournament." KGA, the venue for the event, is a 125-acre oasis which is home to a 7219-yard par-72 course initially designed by the famous Peter Thompson and in 2009 redesigned by Howard Swan. The world-class fairways and greens complemented by numerous water hazards and the prevailing winds make the KGA one of the most challenging golf courses in India.

For the first time in over ten years, India's golfers get a chance to play for European status at the Challenge Tour's inaugural Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge in Bangalore from Thursday.

On Wednesday, Black Bull brand ambassador Sir Nick Faldo turned out for a Pro-Am and drew a huge response as did former India cricket star Yuvraj Singh.

"It's all about creating opportunities and that's what we're here for. It's up to the players to make the most of it. You have to be better than the rest," the six-time major winner said.

The tournament co-sanctioned with the domestic tour, sees the return of the Challenge Tour to India after Ahmedabad in February 2013 with consecutive $300,000 events, the PGTI said.

The PGTI is also back at the KGA after three years. The field of 156 players including 153 professionals and three amateurs will feature 52 Indian professionals.

Om Prakash wins maiden international title with stellar show

Om Prakash Chouhan posted a stellar seven-under 65 final round to win the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge at the Karnataka Golf Association (KGA) here on Sunday. Om Prakash (20-under 268) claimed his first international title, and received ₹39,84,000.

A birdie on the 15th hole helped Om Prakash pull level with leader Ashley Chesters. A nerveless long putt on the 17th then powered Om Prakash to the sole lead.

In front of a thrilled home crowd at the 18th hole, Om Prakash sunk his birdie putt to win by two strokes. It was a tremendous effort from Om Prakash, who had started the day two shots behind the leader.

England's Chesters and Spain's Victor Pastor finished tied second in this event co-sanctioned by the European Challenge Tour and PGTI. "I definitely have plans to play on the Challenge Tour in Europe now. This win opens a lot of doors for me," Om Prakash, who hails from Mhow in Madhya Pradesh, said.

"The birdie on the 15th was the key," Om Prakash added.

Indian Comes From Behind For Biggest Career Win; Chesters Ends Up Second

GOLF

Bengaluru: On a day of fluctuating fortunes, India's Om Prakash Chouhan, who played catch-up for the good part of the day, came up with a clutch of birdie putts under pressure on the home stretch to annex the biggest win of his pro career at the Duncan Taylor Black Ball Challenge at the KGA here on Sunday.

The 36-year-old from Mhow reserved his best for the last, shooting a flawless seven-under 65 for a two-shot victory in the $300,000 Challenge Tour event. Chouhan finished with an impressive total of 20-under 268, which equaled the lowest winning total at the KGA achieved by Udayan Mane seven years ago. "I'm thrilled. It's a huge achievement for me as I had never won an international title previously," said an elated Chouhan, who took home a cheque for $48,000.

Englishman Ashley Chesters (67), who had a jump-start to the round and stayed ahead of the field till the 15th hole, and Spaniard Victor Pastor (67) finished in a tie for second place on 18-under 270. Overnight leader Lorenzo Scalise (73) finished fourth.

The Sunday crowd following the leader group was right behind Chouhan and kept urging him to uncork something special. The pro, with seven wins on the PGTI Tour, didn't disappoint them, snapping at Chesters's heels with birdies on the first, sixth, seventh and 12th holes. He also had a great par save on the par-5 fifth after finding the water.

One shot behind with four holes to go, the Indian ace came up with a brilliant 6-iron tee shot on the par-3, 194-yard 15th hole. He holed a 10-footer to draw level for the first time with the Englishman, who probably would have heard the loud roar while putting on the 16th green.

"That birdie was the key. I knew something special was on the cards from there on," Chouhan added. For sure the spring was back in his feet.

Chesters had chances on the 16th and 17 holes for birdies but missed them both. Chouhan missed a 20-footer on the 16th hole. He was lucky on the 17th when his driver tee shot saw the ball stay on the edge of the fairway bunker.

He found the green with a fine 9-iron second shot from there and sank a tough 15-foot right-to-left putt to go ahead for the first time.

The celebratory flat pump said it all. Chesters needed to pick up a shot on the closing hole to get into a playoff, but he could only manage a par.

Chouhan didn't resort to conservative play, he attacked the flag with a 7-iron second shot and was welcomed on to the green by chants of "OP, OP, OP" by his fellow pros and the members alike. The Indian duly sank the eight-footer for biggest pay cheque of his 21-year pro career.

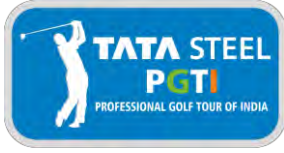

The win also earned him exemption on the Challenge Tour in Europe. This win opens a lot of doors for me so I'm excited about the opportunities ahead," he added.

Final scores (after 73 holes): 268: Om Prakash Chouhan (70, 67, 66, 65); 270: Victor Pastor (67, 72, 64, 67, 67); Ashley Chesters (67, 68, 68, 68, 67); 272: Lorenzo Scalise (73, 68, 65, 65, 71); 273: Rikard Karlberg (5-over, 63, 66, 69, 70)

Select (Indians only): 276: Aman Raj (67, 68, 73, 70, 71); 279: Mithun Das (67, 71, 71, 70, 72); 280: Udayan Mane (70, 69, 72, 70, 67); 281: Pratik Singh (70, 68, 75, 68); 282: Kunal Joshi (72, 70, 74, 66, 71-34)

Veteran Chouhan bells Chesters' cat

Pro without a home course triumphs at KGA

SIDNEY KIRAN
BENGALURU, DHNS

Om Prakash Chouhan still doesn't have a home course despite turning professional a little over a decade ago.

While he manages driving at a range in his hometown Mhow in Madhya Pradesh, for a full-fledged round he's forced to travel to Kalhaar Blues and Greens Golf Club in Ahmedabad, and the man from a humble background does that only before big events to fine-tune his game.

Despite the severe limitations, Chouhan is amongst the most notable pros on the domestic PGTI circuit, dialling out consistent performances that has seen him rake up seven titles.

On a balmy summer Sunday at the Karnataka Golf Association, he added an eighth, and his biggest, with a majestic come-from-behind triumph in the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge—an European Challenge Tour event.

Followed by a strong weekend-crowd which soaked in riveting golf, the 36-year-old smashed a brilliant and flawless seven under 65 to not only quell a strong challenge from Englishman Ashley Chesters, who held the lead until the 15th hole, but ended up completing a record triumph.

In totalling 20 under 268, he equalled Udayan Mane's lowest winning total at the KGA and became the first Indian since Khalin Joshi (Panasonic Open, October 2018) to triumph in an international event on home soil. Chesters, who shot 67, finished second along with Victor Pastor (67) at 270. "It feels great to win my maiden international event," said a delighted Chouhan after collecting the winner's cheque of USD 48,000. "I've been working a lot on the mental aspect of my game lately and the results are showing up. In the past, if I dropped shots or made mistakes early in the round, I would generally start playing more aggressively. But now, I don't let the errors affect my game too much."

Chouhan, who now intends to take up the Challenge tour membership after becoming eligible post the win, was locked in an intense battle with Chesters. The Englishman, playing in the penultimate group and under slightly less pressure as compared to Chouhan in the leader group, kept nailing birdies when it mattered most to always stay a step ahead of the Indian.

The seasoned Chouhan, having to play catch up with every shot, went about his job in a cool and calm fashion. He barely committed any errors and with birdies on the first, sixth, seventh and 12th - and always stayed within touching distance.

Chouhan then stepped on the pedal on the closing holes. He birdied the 15th to draw level with Chesters and then nudged ahead for the first time in the tournament with a birdie on the 17th to a thunderous applause.

Upbeat, Chouhan then signed off on a thumping note, birdieing the closing 18th following a superb approach shot that landed the ball to within 10 feet from the pin.

Leading scores (after 72 holes, Indians unless mentioned): 268: Om Prakash Chouhan (I), 67, 65, 65; 270: Victor Pastor (ESP), 72, 64, 67, 67; Ashley Chesters (ENG), 67, 68, 68, 67; 272: Lorenzo Scalizi (ITA), 68, 68, 65, 71; 273: Mikael Harberg (DEN), 68, 68, 69, 70; 274: Oliver Farr (IWA), 64, 71, 70, 66; Craig Moore (SCO), 69, 69, 67, 69; 276: Arjun Rai (I), 68, 71, 70; Lumpy Johnson (SCO), 68, 68, 70, 70; Andrea Pavan (ITA), 68, 70, 69, 69.

Ice-cool Om Prakash Chouhan's fabulous 65 earns him first international title with victory at Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge 2023

Bengaluru: India's Om Prakash Chouhan produced a nerveless seven-under 65 on the final day to earn his first international title as he finished two shots ahead of the rest of the field much to the delight of the home crowd at the US$300,000 Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge 2023 at the Karnataka Golf Association (KGA) golf course in Bengaluru on Sunday.

The 36-year-old Om Prakash Chouhan (70-67-66-65), who hails from Mhow in Madhya Pradesh, fired the last day's best score to total 20-under 268 for the week while joint runners-up Ashley Chesters (67-68-68-67) of England and Victor Pastor (72-64-67-67) of Spain had a tally of 18-under 270 at the event co-sanctioned by the European Challenge Tour and PGTI.

Anan Raj (67-68-71-70) took tied eighth place at 12-under 276 to finish as the second Indian in the top-10.

Om Prakash Chouhan's eighth professional win helped him secure his Challenge Tour card and claim his biggest ever prize money cheque of US$48,000 (INR 39,84,000) that in turn catapulted him from 16th to first position in the TATA Steel PGTI Rankings with season's earnings of INR 44,52,750.

Among the other notable records set on Sunday, Chouhan became the third Indian to win on the Challenge Tour following the likes of Gaganjeet Bhullar (won in 2011) and Shiv Kapur (won two titles in 2013). It was also the first win by an Indian on Indian soil since Khalin Joshi's triumph at the Panasonic Open India in October 2018. Om Prakash also equaled Udayan Mane's 2017 record for the lowest winning total at KGA.

Chouhan, a winner of seven PGTI titles in the past, saved his best round for the last day as he went error-free with three birdies on the front-nine and four more on the back-nine. On the front-nine, 'OP' as he is known, hit his wedges close on a couple of occasions to pick up birdies and also made a great par save on the fifth after finding the water hazard.

After a birdie on the 12th and salvaging a good par on the 14th, OP sank a crucial 10-foot birdie conversion on the 15th to draw level with Ashley Chesters who was the leader for most part of the day. OP then extracted a birdie from a tough position on the 17th as he drained another long putt. An unruffled Chouhan, who turned pro in 2002, finally saw it home in style with a 10-foot birdie conversion on the 18th.

India's Om Prakash Chouhan showed nerves of steel, firing a seven-under 65 on the final day to earn his first international title at the USD 300,000 Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge on Sunday.

The 36-year-old finished two shots ahead of the rest of the field much to the delight of the home crowd at the Karnataka Golf Association (KGA) golf course.

Chouhan (70-67-66-65), who hails from Mhow in Madhya Pradesh, fired the last day's best score to total 20-under 268 for the week while joint runners-up Ashley Chesters (67-68-68-67) of England and Victor Pastor (72-64-67-67) of Spain had a tally of 18-under 270.

Aman Raj (67-68-71-70) took tied eighth place at 12-under 276 to finish as the second Indian in the top-10 at the event co-sanctioned by the European Challenge Tour and PGTI.

Chouhan's eighth professional win helped him secure his Challenge Tour card and claim his biggest ever prize money cheque of USD 48,000 (Rs 39,84,000) that in turn catapulted him from 16th to first position in the TATA Steel PGTI Rankings with season's earnings of Rs 44,52,750.

Among the other notable records set on Sunday, Chouhan became the third Indian to win on the Challenge Tour following the likes of Gaganjeet Bhullar (won in 2011) and Shiv Kapur (won two titles in 2013).

It was also the first win by an Indian on Indian soil since Khalin Joshi's triumph at the Panasonic Open India in October 2018. Chouhan also equalled Udayan Mane's 2017 record for the lowest winning total at KGA.

Chouhan, a winner of seven PGTI titles in the past, saved his best round for the last day as he went error-free with three birdies on the front-nine and four more on the back-nine.

On the front-nine, Chouhan hit his wedges close on a couple of occasions to pick up birdies and also made a great par save on the fifth after finding the water hazard. After a birdie on the 12th and salvaging a good par on the 14th, Chouhan sank a crucial 10-foot birdie conversion on the 15th to draw level with Ashley Chesters who was the leader for most part of the day.

In the end it was a thoroughly deserved maiden international title for Om Prakash Chouhan in the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge at Bangalore's KGA on Sunday.

The unassuming Ahmedabad-based golfer fired a stunning seven-under 65 on the final day to finish two shots ahead of the rest of the field much to the delight of the home crowd at the $300,000 event.

The 36-year-old from Mhow in Madhya Pradesh, totalled 20-under 268 while joint runners-up Ashley Chesters (67-68-68-67) of England and Spain's Victor Pastor (72-64-67-67) tallied 18-under 270 at the event co-sanctioned by the Challenge Tour and PGTI.

Aman Raj (67-68-71-70) took tied eighth place on 12-under 276 to finish as the second Indian in the top-10, the PGTI said.

It was an eighth professional title for Chouhan (70-67-66-65), helped seal a Challenge Tour card and landed his highest Sunday earnings of $48,000 (Rs 39.84 lakh).

The cheque also catapulted him from 16th to first place in the Tata Steel PGTI Rankings with season's earnings of Rs 44,52,750.

Ferrari fan Scalise zooms to 2-shot lead

Chouhan Shares Second Spot With Three Others

Bengaluru: On a brilliant day for golf, Italian Lorenzo Scalise, a huge Ferrari fan, found an extra gear to charge to the top of the leaderboard with a stupendous bogey-free seven under 65 in the third round of the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge at the KGA here on Saturday.

The 27-year-old, who was three shots behind leader Manuel Elvira, took his three-day tally to 15-under 201 for a two-shot lead. India's Om Prakash Chouhan, who found his touch with a six-under 66, shared the second spot with Rikard Karlberg (69), Viktor Pastor (67) and Ashley Chesters (68). Elvira (74) had a poor day to drop down the leaderboard.

India's Aman Raj (71), tied third overnight and who shared the lead briefly after a birdie on the 12th, suffered a meltdown with three bogeys to slip to the tied 10th spot. Aryan Roopa Anand (72) was tied 17th on eight-under 206, while M Dharmaraj (71) and R Mani Muthu (72) were tied 23th a shot further back.

With two top five finishes in four starts this season, Scalise was consistent right through. The Italian, with rounds of 68 and 68 on the first two days, got off to stupendous start with a hat trick of birdies to go to the top of the leaderboard. He picked up further shots on the fifth and 12th holes to go to 13-under.

Karlberg and Aman, playing two groups behind, joined Scalise at the top briefly. But the Italian holed a 12-footer for birdie on the 14th and sank a 25-footer to go to 15-under. There was no looking back thereafter as Scalise left the rest of the field to play catch-up.

He did find himself in a little bit of trouble when he found the woods on the left with his drive on the 17th hole. But he played a brilliant second shot through a small gap on to the green that elicited a lot of 'oohs and aahs' from the motley crowd. He duly two-putted to walk away unscathed.

"I'm very pleased today," he said. "I hit it great off the tee and put myself in some great positions. My putting was very good, and I only left myself short-sided once. Hopefully I can keep it going tomorrow," said Scalise.

Like the Italian, Chouhan, a seven-time winner on the PGTI, found his touch at the right time. The pro from Mhow could have joined Scalise at the top if not for the unfortunate double bogey six on the 12th hole. He landed on the divot — which was sadly not repaired — with his tee shot and duffed his next shot and found the hazard. He quickly put that setback behind him with four birdies on the last five holes to stay within striking distance of the leader. "I didn't let that (double bogey) affect my game. I was pleased with a very strong finish," said Chouhan.

Leading scores (after 54 holes): 200: Lorenzo Scalise (64, 66, 68, 65); 203: Om Prakash Chouhan (70, 67, 66); Viktor Pastor (69); 72, 64, 67, Rikard Karlberg (69); 68, 66, 69, Ashley Chesters (70); 67, 68, 69; Subot (Indian only): 204: Aryan Roopa Anand (68, 72, 73); 209: M Dharmaraj (71, 71); R Mani Muthu (68, 68, 72, 71-2).

An excellent seven-under 65 third round powered Italy's Lorenzo Scalise to the sole lead in the $3,00,000 Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge at the Karnataka Golf Association here on Saturday.

Om Prakash Chouhan, Victor Pastor, Ashley Chesters, and Rikard Karlberg trail the leader Scalise (15-under 201) by two shots.

India's Om Prakash carded a six-under 66 to move up 11 spots. Aman Raj (10-under 206) sits in ninth place.

Scalise excelled on the 17th hole, when he forced his way out of a tough spot to land on the green. Stuck behind trees, the 27-year-old from Monza found the gap, and used the wind to hook the ball near the hole.

Scalise is in fine form this season, having finished tied-third and tied-fifth in his previous two European Challenge Tour events.

Om Prakash, a seven-time winner on the PGTI, had an up and down day. Om Prakash made a birdie and an eagle on the 10th and 11th holes, but slipped up with a double bogey on the 12th where he found the hazard.

Om Prakash moved up 11 spots to be tied second. GETTY IMAGES

Om Prakash then made four birdies in the last five holes to finish on a high.

"After a good start, the double-bogey on the 12th was quite disappointing. But fortunately, I didn't let that affect my game," Om Prakash said.

India's Aryan Roopa Anand lies tied 17th, while Udayan Mane and Khalin Joshi are tied-43rd and tied 61st respectively.

The scores (top eight): 201:

Lorenzo Scalise (Ita) (68, 68, 65); 203: Om Prakash Chouhan (Ind) (70, 67, 66), Victor Pastor (Esp) (72, 64, 67), Ashley Chesters (Eng) (67, 68, 68), Rikard Karlberg (Swe) (68, 66, 69); 205: Niall Kearney (Irl) (68, 71, 66), Craig Howie (Sco) (69, 69, 67), Oliver Farr (Wal) (64, 71, 70).

Hailing from Monza, the Italian city just outside Milan and famous for its F1 Grand Prix racing, Lorenzo Scalise knows a thing or two about turning on the accelerator and pulling clear of heavy traffic. Raj stays at third at Challenge Tour event

Bengaluru: India's Aman Raj shot a solid four-under 68 to lie tied third after the second round of the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge golf here on Friday. At 9-under for 36 holes, Aman was two shots behind the leader, Manuel Elvira of Spain (63-70), who is 11-under and two shots ahead of the field. Sweden's Rikard Karlberg (68-66), who has two wins in India, was lying second at 10-under, while Aman shared the third place alongside three others – Oliver Farr (64-71), Ashley Chesters (67-68) and Stefano Mazzoli (67-68), who were all at 9-under. PTI pace-setter Manuel Elvira couldn't quite replicate his opening round heroics but did just enough to maintain a slender lead at the halfway stage as the chasing pack added their ante in the Dominik Taylor Black Ball Challenge here on Friday.

Elvira, struggling with his putting for most part of the second round, shot two-under 70 to total 133 on another scorching day at the Karnataka Golf Association while 2010 Indian Open winner Rikard Karlberg thrust himself into contention for a third title on Indian soil with a sizzling 66 to lie second, a shot behind leader Manuel Elvira on Friday.

In Karnataka, Aman Raj was the best placed Indian, sharing the third spot at 135 with a 66 while Mysuru's Aryan Roopa Anand, playing his rookie season as a pro, ensured a fair bit of spotlight will be on him on Saturday as his second successive 68 kept him within three shots of Elvira at tied seventh.

Unlike Thursday where nearly everything he touched turned to gold, Friday was tough work for the 25-year-old Elvira, who is carrying his own bag for this event. He replicated the same strategy that brought him a whopping 10 birdies on the opening day by playing aggressive golf off the tee and attacking the pins but the results were mixed in the second as he could muster only four birdies against two bogeys.

In trying to be over aggressive on the narrow tree-lined course where wayward drives can severely dent scoring, Elvira ended up raising the fairways on a few occasions after which it was all about salvaging par rather than aiming for a birdie.

Trouble in driving also had an impact in his putting as he fumbled several times on the greens, the Santander pro feding the unforgiving nature of KGA that is one of toughest courses in the country.

Elvira opened with a birdie from 14 feet on the first hole but bogeyed the third following an errant tee shot. He two-putted from the edge of the green on the fifth to go 1-up again but then found the water with his second shot on the par 5 ninth and ended up with a bogey.

He steadied himself on the back nine, finding birdies on the 13th and closing 18th to just stay a little ahead of the chasing pack.

Unlike Elvira, it was relatively smooth sailing for Karlberg. The 36-year-old, who is attempting to get back onto the main tour, sunk five birdies and even rifled in an eagle on the fifth with a monstrous 35-foot putt. His only blemish came on the seventh which otherwise would have given him a share of the lead.

Leading scores after 36 holes, India unless mentioned: 132 Manuel Elvira (ESP) 53, 70; 134 Rikard Karlberg (SWE) 66, 66; 135 Aman Raj (IND) 64, 71; Shikhar Mazumdar (IND) 67, 68; Aryan Roopa Anand (IND) 67, 66; 136 Arjun Kumar (IND) 68, 68; Victor Pistor (ESP) 72, 64; Lorenzo Scavino (ITA) 68, 68; Benjamin Hebert (FRA) 70, 66; Henrik Sorensen (DEN) 67, 68.

Bengaluru: Overnight leader Manuel Elvira of Spain couldn't reproduce his first-round heroics on another scoring day, but the 26-year-old did just about enough to stay ahead of the field after the half-way stage of the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge at the KGA here on Friday.

Elvira, who carries his own bag on the Challenge Tour, shot two-under 70 in the second round to take his tally to 11-under 133 for a one-shot lead over Sweden's Rikard Karlberg, who made the most of the benign conditions for a sizzling six-under 66.

Aman Raj, No. 2 on the PGTI Order of Merit, stayed in the hunt a shot further back with a four-under 68 in tied third place with Oliver Farr (71), Stefano Mazzoli (68) and Ashley Chesters (68) on nine-under 135.

Rookie pro Aryan Roopa Anand shot a second straight four-under 68 to occupy the tied seventh place with a total of eight-under 136. In all, 69 pros, including 14 Indians, made the cut that came at three-under 141. Elvira, searching for his first win on the Tour, was sold off the tee like his opening round. Barring two bad approach shots — on the third and the ninth, where he duly dropped shots — Elvira was spot-on with his hitting.

Syed Asif

He began with a 14-foot birdie putt and picked up shots on the fifth, where two-putted from the fringe, 13th and the closing 18th for his 70. But the Spaniard struggled on the greens, which wasn't as slick as it normally is during the PGTI Tour events.

"It was a frustrating day today, I didn't hole many putts," Elvira lamented.

There were no such blues on the greens for Karlberg, whose 66 was the highlight of the day. The Swede, who has a special liking for India — he won twice on the Asian Tour in New Delhi, the Indian Open and the Sail Open in 2010, — stayed in the mix for a third title.

A 10th tee starter, Karlberg, nearly eagled with his sand wedge second shot, but settled for a tap-in birdie instead.

He made capital on the par-5s — the 11th, 14th and an eagle three on the fifth — to go low. The 36-year-old's other birdies came on the 13th, where he sank an 18-footer, and the third.

His lone blemish came on the seventh, where he found the greenside bunker with his pitching wedge second shot and then failed to hole a tricky 11-footer for par. "I kept hitting fairways, that was key today," said Karlberg, who has a famous playoff win over former world No. 1 Martin Kaymer on the European Tour.

Aman looked good for the best part of the day, but a three-putted bogey on the sixth hole from 25 feet, and another dropped shot the next hole (missed a seven-footer) pegged him back a bit.

Leading scores (after 36 holes): 133: Manuel Elvira (Esp, 63, 70); 134: Rikard Karlberg (Swe, 68, 66); 135: Aman Raj (Ind, 62, 68), Oliver Farr (Wal, 64, 71), Stefano Mazzoli (Ita, 62, 68), Ashley Chesters (Eng, 62, 68).

Select (Indians only): 136: Aryan Roopa Anand (68, 68, T-7); 137: On Prakash Choudhan (70, 67), Mari Muthu R (68, 69, T-13); 138: Kavan Pratap Singh (70, 68), M Dharma (67, 71, T-18).

Manuel Elvira's two-under 70 second round was enough to hold on to the lead in the $300,000 Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge at the Karnataka Golf Association (KGA) here on Friday.

Elvira, who shot a stellar nine-under 63 first round, holds a one shot lead over second-placed Sweden's Rikard Karlberg (10-under 134).

Aman Raj was the best-placed Indian in tied third place (nine-under 135). Aman shares his spot with Italy's Stefano Mazzoli, Oliver Farr of Wales and England's Ashley Chesters.

Aryan Roopa Anand, playing on his home course, shot a 68 to rise five spots to tied seventh.

The cut fell at three-under 141, with fourteen Indians out of a total of 52 making it to the money rounds.

Good start

Aman began well with birdies on the second and fourth holes, but slipped to bogeys on the sixth and seventh as his putter went cold. Four birdies between the ninth and the 13th helped him finish strongly.

"It was an up and down round but I'm glad I managed to salvage it after being in trouble at one stage," Aman said.

Elvira, meanwhile, found it tough to negotiate the breezy afternoon conditions.

The scores (top three):

133: Manuel Elvira (Esp) (63, 70);

134: Rikard Karlberg (Swe) (68, 66);

135: Ashley Chesters (Eng) (67, 68), Oliver Farr (Wal) (64, 71), Stefano Mazzoli (Ita) (67, 68), Aman Raj (Ind) (67, 68).

Aman Raj stays at third, Aryan Roopa Anand is 7th at Challenge Tour event

NewsDrum Desk
24 Mar 2023

Bengaluru, Mar 24 (PTI) India's Aman Raj shot a solid four-under 68 to lie tied third after the second round of the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge golf here on Friday.

At 9-under for 36 holes, Aman was two shots behind the leader, Manuel Elvira of Spain (63-70), who is 11-under and two shots ahead of the field.

Sweden's Rikard Karlberg (68-66), who has two wins in India, was lying second at 10-under, while Aman shared the third place alongside three others -- Oliver Farr (64-71), Ashley Chesters (67-68) and Stefano Mazzoli (67-68), who were all at 9-under.

Just one shot behind them in tied seventh was local lad, Aryan Roopa Anand, a rookie pro. Aryan (68-68) is now 8-under and shares the seventh place with five others.

Two more Indians, Om Prakash Chouhan (70-67) and Mari Muthu (68-69) were tied 13th at 7-under. Chouhan made a fine move up by 30 places as he added 67 to his first 70.

The tournament has so far looked good for Indians, who are getting to play a European Challenge Tour event in India after a gap of 10 years. A win here could open the doors to the Challenge Tour, from where they can aspire for the main DP World Tour.

As many as 14 Indians made the cut, which fell at 3-under with 69 players making it through to the weekend, including amateurs Arron Edwards-Hill and Robert Moran who received invitations through Sir Nick Faldo's Elite Tour.

Aman, who is on a comeback trail following a fine win on the domestic Tata Steel PGTI Tour, had a fine start with birdies on second and fourth, but back-to-back bogeys on sixth and seventh meant he was back to even par.

Elvira's sizzling 63 puts him in the van

Manuel Elvira grabbed the first round lead in the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge at the KGA course here with an excellent nine-under 63. It was the lowest round in a professional event at the KGA.

The 26-year-old from Spain made ten birdies and a single bogey on a hot and dry day. Elvira holds a one stroke lead over nearest rival, Welshman Oliver Farr.

"Everything was on point with my game today. I put myself in position off the tee, hit some really good approach shots and then managed to hole my putts and make some birdies," Elvira said.

Best Indians

Aman Raj and M. Dharmaraj – both tied-third at five-under – were the best Indian performers. Aman, fresh from a win on the PGTI earlier this month, made a bogey on the first hole but came back strongly with six birdies.

India's Mohammad Sanju produced a hole-in-one on the fourth hole during his round of 72 that placed him tied 86th.

GOLF BLACK BULL CHALLENGE

Excellent Elvira elevates effortlessly on day one

Spaniard smashes nine-under 63 in his first outing in India, Indians start well

SIDNEY KIRAN
BENGALURU, DHNS

Spaniard Manuel Elvira had a memorable outing in his first competitive round in India while a bunch of Indians kicked-started their campaign on a positive note as the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge got off to a fast start on Thursday.

An early starter, the 26-year-old Elvira laid down the marker in blistering fashion, firing a brilliant nine-under 63 at the Karnataka Golf Association — the lowest score by a golfer in a professional event here. Bengaluru's Khatin Joshi holds the course record when he fired 62 at the South West India Amateur Golf Championship way back in 2012.

With the sun out in full cry and scoring relatively easy, especially if the driving was spot-on, a vast number of golfers went in pursuit of Elvira's mark but only Wales' Oliver Farr could come close to him, lying second one shot behind.

Men in form Anant Raj, home course pro M Dhanraj and B Mani Mohan, and talented youngsters Aryan Soopra Anand and Angel Chivira at times threatened to steal Elvira's thunder but a couple of bad holes ruined their respective causes. They, however, stayed within touching distance of the pace-setter. While Anant and Dhanraj were tied third with 67, Mohan, Chivira and Raj were a shot behind at 68 along with compatriots Sunjit Biswas and Sudhir Sharma.

Hailing from Santander, a port city in north east Spain, Elvira, who is yet to establish himself on the European Challenge Tour, had everyone stunned with probably his best performance in a single round of golf ever. Ranked 620th in the world and without a win in 54 starts so far on the Challenge Tour with just four top-10 finishes and a best of third in the Big Green Egg German Challenge last year in Germany, Elvira looked a different player on Tuesday.

Making light of his ordinary career statistics, Elvira came out all guns blazing. He was aggressive all the way despite knowing there's no scope for errors at the tight course. He found the fairways consistently, was top notch with his approach shots, and patted like a dream, pulling off some truly long ones to bog the highlight. It was one of those rare days when everything he touched, barring the bogey on the 17th, turned into gold.

Starting from the 10th, he hammered four straight birdies, all of them setup by wonderful approach shots from over 100 yards out that landed the ball close to the pin. His momentum dipped on the 17th where he missed a 6-foot par putt but then he was soaring on the inward journey, nailing back-to-back birdies there.

Leading scores after 18 holes, Sunday (Karnataka Golf Association): Manuel Elvira (ESP) 63; Oliver Farr (WAL) 62; Aryan Chivira (IND), Shivam Shrivastava (IND), Venkatesh Kumar (IND), M Dhanraj (IND), Anant Raj (IND), Mani Mohan (IND), Sunjit Biswas (IND), Sudhir Sharma (IND).

राज और धर्मा भारतीयों में सर्वश्रेष्ठ स्थान पर

बेंगलुरु भारतीय गोल्फर अमन राज ने गुरुवार को यहां डकन टेलर ब्लैकबुल चैलेज में पांच अंडर 67 का कार्ड खेलकर अच्छी शुरुआत की। अमन राज ने दो हफ्ते पहले घरेलू टाटा स्टील पीजीटीआई टूर खिताब हासिल किया था। भारत में 10 साल बाद लौटे यूरोपीय चैलेज टूर में वह साथी भारतीय एम धर्मा के साथ संयुक्त रूप से तीसरे स्थान पर चल रहे हैं। ए दोनो स्पेन के मैनुएल एलविरा से चार शॉट पीछे चल रहे हैं। एलविरा ने नौ अंडर 63 का कार्ड खेला जिससे वह एकल बढ़त बनाए है।

Bengaluru: Solid off the tee and attacking the flag with regularity, Manuel Elvira didn't appear like a pro looking for his maiden win on the Challenge Tour.

The Spaniard, with two top-10 finishes this season in four starts, was in the zone, firing a sizzling nine-under 63 on the opening day of the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge at the KGA here on Thursday.

The 26-year-old from Santander, who relishes sunny conditions, made hay on a sweltering summer day here to shoot the best score ever by a pro — Khalin Joshi shot 10-under 62 as an amateur over a decade ago—for a one-shot lead over Welsh pro Oliver Farr (64) in the $300,000 event.

Among the Indians, in-form Aman Raj, who won the last PGTI event in Gujarat early this month, and homeboy M Dharma shot five-under 67s to lie in tied third place. Six Indians, including rookie Aryan Roopa Anand, who is playing some of his best golf in the last couple of months, and local pro R Mari Muthu, were tied 12th a shot further back with 16 others on a crowded leaderboard dominated by overseas pros.

The star of the day was Elvira, who got off to a rocking start, firing four straight birdies set up by brilliant approaches. A 10th tee starter, he began with a seven-foot putt, a four-footer on the next and nearly holed it on the 12th hole with a lob wedge second shot. He sank a long 21-footer on the par-3 13th hole. The lone blemish on an otherwise stupendous day came on the 17th, where he missed a six-footer for par. But Elvira put that setback behind him with short birdie putts on the first and second holes. He sank a 24-footer on the fourth and picked up further shots on the fifth and seventh holes for his 63.

"I hit the ball well throughout and putted well too," said Elvira, who has a none-too-impressive record of four top 10s in 54 starts on the second-tier tour in Europe. "The key at the KGA is to stay on the fairways, if you miss them you will struggle."

Homeboy Dharma knows that pretty well. The 37-year-old, winner twice on the PGTI Tour, was spot-on with his hitting but struggled on the greens a bit. If not for the two three-putted bogeys on the sixth and 17th holes, Dharma would have been snapping at the leader's heels.

Aman, meanwhile, got off to a poor start, bogeying his opening hole on the 10th. The Patna pro then found his rhythm as the day wore on with six birdies to finish in a tie for the third place. "I know my game is in good shape after my recent win, I just need to be patient," said Aman.

Leading scores (after 18 holes): 63: Manuel Elvira (Esp); 64: Oliver Farr (Wali); 67: Ashley Chesters (Eng), Steven Brown (Eng), Stefano Mazzoli (Ita), M Dharma, Joel Sjöholm (Swe), Aman Raj (Ind), Volker Meyer (Ger), Matteo Manzoni (Ita), Henrik Ståhl (Swe).

Select (Indians): 68: Surjit Bishnoi, Aryan Roopa Anand, Angad Cherna, Mari Mathu R, Sudhir Sharma, Aadil Bedi (all tied 12th).

Aman Raj and Dharma lead Indian charge at Challenge Tour

PTI | Updated: March 23, 2023 19:30 IST

Bengaluru, March 23 (PTI) Aman Raj, who two weeks ago won on the domestic Tata Steel PGTI Tour, got off to a quick start at the Duncan Taylor Black Bull Challenge with a card of 5-under 67.

He was tied third alongside fellow Indian M Dharma, as the European Challenge Tour returned to India after a gap of 10 years.

Aman Raj and Dharma were four shots behind the Spaniard Manuel Elvira, who shot an incredible course record-setting 9-under 63.

Welshman Oliver Farr carded a bogey free 8-under 64 to be second at the KGA Course.

Aman Raj and Dharma were in a group of nine players at tied third. The seven players other than the Indian duo, include four-time DP World Tour winner Matteo Manassero, Englishmen Steven Brown and Ashley Chesters, Swedes Joel Sjöholm and Henric Sturehed, Italian Stefano Mazzoli and Germany's Velten Meyer.

The Indian contingent, looking at possible pathways into the DP World Tour and beyond, had a fine start with five more Indians at the crowded tied-12th place. The five were rookie pro Aryan Roopa Anand, Angad Cheema, Sunhit Bishnoi, Aadil Bedi and R Marimuthu, who all scored 4-under 68 each.

The course played well as 86 golfers shot under par and another 28 played even par.

Aman Raj, starting from the back nine, bogeyed his first and 10th holes. He made no more mistakes as he picked six birdies on the 13th, 16th, first, third, fifth and eighth holes. His compatriot, Dharma, had seven birdies against two bogeys.

Elvira, who already has two top-10 finishes on the Challenge Tour this season – both in South Africa –, began with four birdies on the back nine as he teed off from the 10th.

His lone blemish was a bogey on Par-4 17th as he turned in a 3-under. On the back nine, he birdied six times and had no bogeys.

"It feels amazing," said Elvira. "I wasn't thinking about the course record, but I just wanted to make that final putt to reach 10-under par. Unfortunately, it didn't go in but I'm really happy with my round today."

Oliver Farr, a three-time winner on the Challenge Tour, had six birdies on the front nine and two more on the back nine.

Local lad Aryan Roopa Anand, a former All India Amateur champion who turned pro this year, had four birdies on the front nine and just one on the back nine and closed with eight pars for his 68.
